Dear KHS Staff,

I want to begin by acknowledging the concerns many of you have shared following today's incident. Events like this understandably create anxiety, and I want you to know that your concerns have been heard. The safety of our students and staff remains our highest priority, and we take situations like this extremely seriously.

I also want to reassure you that the situation was addressed quickly once it was reported. Our safety protocols were immediately activated, security responded, and the matter was resolved promptly. At no point after the report was made were students or staff in immediate danger.

In response to today's incident, we have already begun strengthening several of our arrival procedures to ensure an even more secure campus environment.

It is extremely important that all staff attend the morning huddle tomorrow, Wednesday, March 5, where we will review the adjustments we are implementing and provide an opportunity for questions and clarification.

To briefly share some of the immediate steps that will take place tomorrow:

- Director of Safety & Security Brittni Smith will attend the morning huddle and be on campus to support our team and ensure safety procedures are implemented with fidelity.
- All student bags will be searched by security personnel. Staff members who previously assisted with bag checks will be reassigned to support arrival in other areas.
- Additional Regional Office staff will be present in the building to support our campus team.
- Our leadership team will continue reviewing our safety procedures and working with regional partners to further strengthen our protocols.

Again, I want to stress the importance of being present at tomorrow's morning huddle promptly at 6:50am, where we will provide additional information and ensure everyone feels informed and supported moving forward.

Thank you for your professionalism, your care for our students, and your partnership in maintaining a safe school community.

Sincerely,

Keena Moore
